Believe Firebug Responsible for Series of Blazes at Reiches Farm

An incendiary has been working in the Frankfort area, according to investigators. Three fires have occurred at the unoccupied farm of the late Fred Reich since Jan. 24.

Fred L. Kohlhausen, chief of the Frankfort fire department, reported the fires to Sheriff Roy Doerfler this week and forwarded a similar report to the state fire marshal's office.

The first fire occurred in the house, Jan. 24, and practically destroyed. On Feb. 3 the barn was burned down, resulting in a loss of approximately $4,000.

Last Thursday, Chief Kohlhausen reported, there was another fire on the place. When firemen arrived they found the garage in flames but knocked the blaze quickly. The door of the garage was open and snow had drifted inside. There were footprints in the snow, Kohlhausen said. He also found that kerosene or fuel oil had been smeared on the ceiling joists.

Further investigation revealed that a fire had been started in a nearby corncrib but failed to ignite the structure.

There is no electricity on the place so the familiar defective wiring cannot be employed to explain either the house or the barn fire.

It was first believed that the blazes were accidental, caused by transients or youngsters. Since the third fire and the presence of footprints and oil, investigators believe a firebug is responsible.

Fred Reiches, the last occupant of the farm, died last spring. The place is located on the west side of Harlem ave., south of Sauk Trail.

Orland, Mokena Firemen Busy

Firemen of Mokena and Orland Park have answered several calls in the past week.

At 5 o'clock Sunday morning Mokena firemen were called to the home of Harry F. Hilborn, 125 Second st., when an overheated gas furnace burned a hole into the attic. Firemen estimated the damage at approximately $1,000.

Hilborn is employed by the Rock Island railroad and was working Saturday night. He came home at 5 a.m. Sunday, just in time to discover the fire. He roused his wife and two daughters and called the fire department.

The furnace was in the upper part of a closet.

Orland Park firemen were also called out Sunday to the A. S. McKenzie at 143rd and 110th ave. Sparks from a fire place caused minor damage to the living room, according to the report.

The Mokena department's inhalator squad was called to the Elmer Rohde home, 115th ave., and 191st st. at 10:30 last night. Rohde's father-in-law, August Wuske, 77, suffered a heart attack. He was revived by the inhalator squad. Dr. Otto J. Novota, who was called to the scene praised the squad for its work. Wuske was permitted to remain at home.

The inhalator crew of the Orland Park department revived Mrs. John Brier, 143rd and Bell road, when she suffered a heart attack Feb. 10, and she was taken to Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, where she is convalescing.

Orland Park firemen are now attending first aid classes at the engine house on Thursday

School Caucus Elects Officers, Committees

Sub-zero temperatures failed to freeze out interest in the organizational meeting of the Carl Sandburg high school district community caucus which was held at the school the night of Feb. 11.

The caucus is conducted to recommend candidates for the Sandburg school board. The school election is scheduled for April 12.

"Contrary to a lot of rumors this caucus is not run nor controlled by any PTA association," a spokesman for the group stated yesterday. "This caucus was not created to keep anyone from running as a candidate for the Sandburg school board. The nominating committee for the caucus was chosen thru a public vote by caucus delegates who took the time and effort to come to the meeting. The nominating committee will be happy to have the names of any civic minded residents as candidates who will work for a better school and community."

Staff for the Year

At the meeting last week the caucus officers elected were Earl Cutler, chairman; Norman Martin, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Matt McBride, Mrs. Francis Coan and George Bosworth, directors.

The nominating committee—the group that will recommend board candidates to the caucus—also elected, is made up of: Robert Tobias, chairman, (telephone Gibson 8-1424); Richard Johnson, George Carroll, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Leslie Wiler, Mrs. Donald Maue, Mrs. Walter Blewett, Mrs. Hans Bader and Mrs. M. F. Heineman are alternates.

The nominating meeting will be called by the executive board, it was explained, as soon as the nominating committee has compiled a list of candidates.

The committee plans to publish the qualifications of the candidates and final selection of nominees will be made by the delegates. Each club or organization in the district (except those of political nature) is entitled to be represented on the caucus. The caucus also will contain delegates at large, chosen from among persons who have no group affiliations.

Voters Have Final Say

It was pointed out by a caucus spokesman that endorsement by the caucus does not necessarily mean that the candidate has the election in the bag.

The caucus does support its candidates but they still have to compete with any other candidates who may make the run, the spokesman stated.

The voters of the district have the final word.

Death Claims Charles Singler, Newspaperman

With the passing of Charles A. Singler, who died in his home, 1615 104th place Beverly Hills, Chicago, Feb. 12, went a writer of high caliber, sincere and just reporter, a news man good to know.

He also was a poet quite well known, having written poetry which was published in magazines, various columns, such as the "Lin-O-Type or Two", "The Wake of the News" in the Chicago Tribune; the "Farr Horizons" in the South End Reporter and many others.

Mr. Singler was one of the editors of the Southtown Economist when he was taken ill last September. He also worked for the old Chicago Herald and Examiner. He always had a fondness for Mokena and in his younger days, he and his brother Joe came to Mokena often when they enjoyed fishing on the banks of Hickory creek, back in the timber, away from the everyday beaten paths, often accompanied by the late Joe Kohl and Dick McGovney. He also went on fishing trips each year, to some lake or river.

And when he joined the staff of this newspaper a number of years ago, he was again happy to be back in Mokena where he could admire the beautiful sun sets, the open spaces and the farm land as seen from The News-Bulletin office window. He was nice to work with, besides being a good writer he was always genteel, kind and thoughtful. We miss him.

Mokena

I don't think I have ever seen a Spot as peaceful as Mokena. Here, where corn stalks wave and rustle
Far from rattle, roar and bustle,
Farm and city folk abide,
Living happily side by side.
Thirty miles, perhaps from Chi
On the main line of R. I.

Lazy Hickory creek goes winding
Thru the wooded hills and finding
Now and then a splendid view
For a photo fan like you.
Tranquil things are all around,
Hawks fly low and rabbits bound

Some may think perhaps I lean a Bit too far toward old Mokena.
If you think this question moot,
If you would this claim dispute
Well, sir, then here's your subpoena
For a trip to old Mokena.

—Charles A. Singler

Postpone Hearing On Walters Case To Next Monday

A hearing in the case of Raymond Walters, of New Lenox, who was arrested for drunken driving, was continued in the court of Justice of the Peace, Roy Benson, Orland Park last Monday. The hearing is now slated for Monday, Feb. 24.

The delay was granted so that an assistant state's attorney may be present.

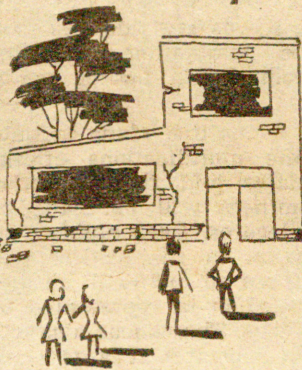

Walters was arrested Jan. 20 in Midlothian following a two-car collision at 147th st. and Cicero ave. He was injured in the crash as was the driver of the other automobile involved, Mrs. Corrine Rudkin, of 8330 W. 135th st., Palos Park. Both were taken to St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, from where Walters was released 10 days ago.

On Monday, Feb. 10, the court reduced the charge to reckless driving and sentenced him to 30 days in Cook County jail, with the recommendation his driver's license be suspended for one year.

Walters then appealed the case and was released on $500 bond.

The assistant state's attorney then suggested to Justice of the Peace Benson that he pass a motion to vacate his findings in the reckless driving charge and reinstate the charge of driving while intoxicated.

Begin Tryouts For Operetta At Mokena School

Try-outs for the annual spring operetta in the Mokena public schools are in progress this week and all pupils in sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible.

The operetta this year is to be Grebory and Gurske's production of "Hold That Curtain" and will be presented in the school auditorium at 8 p.m., March 27, under the direction of Glenn L. Miers, supervisor of music.

This will be the third production. The first was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and the one last year was "Puddin' Head the First".

Both of these dealt with the realm of fantasy. This year's production is different. "Hold That Curtain", is built around the story of the presentation of an operetta at a school. As an addition to the troubles that beset the director is just getting the cast to function come the discovery that the class treasury has been emptied and suspicion falls on one of the principal characters in the operetta. For a time it appears doubtful whether the curtain will go up on time or whether it will go up at all.

The piece has a cast of five boys, three girls, a dancing chorus of 10 as well as a singing chorus. Wayne Swanberg will serve as pianist.

The fourth annual concert by the school choir is to be given May 8. The choir will get an early start on its public appearances this season. The Mokena group is to participate in the Lenten service at St. John's United Church of Christ next Wednesday evening, Feb. 26.

The Friends of the Library have held several money-raising events for the building fund, the most recent a roller skating party on Jan. 20. A check for $130 representing the receipts from this affair was presented to Mrs. Voris Miller, president of the library board, which will be used to purchase new books; the balance to be placed in the building fund.

According to Miss Pillsbury, more adult books are needed for the shelves.

Norman Ross, of television and radio fame, will give a lecture in the Central school on March 29. Tickets may be purchased from library board members or members of the Friends of the Library for this interesting program.

Anyone interested in helping the library by becoming a member of Friends of the Library, are invited to call Kellogg 2-2685.

Schroll to Hold Meeting March 1, 2

Charles J. Schroll who is a candidate for committeeman on the Republican ticket for Bremen township will hold open house Saturday and Sunday, March 1 and 2 in his headquarters at 3741 West 147th st., Midlothian. There will be refreshments and prizes.

Absent Trustee Endorses Action on Hiring Engineer

Joseph McCarthy, trustee, who was unable to attend the meeting of the Tinley Park village board on Monday because of illness, expressed his confidence in the recent transaction between the village and Wilson and Associates, engineers, for the sewer project, in a letter directed to the board, which was read at the meeting.

Unable to attend the previous board meeting when the agreement between the village and the engineers was signed, McCarthy in his letter stated he wish to go on record as wholeheartedly approving both actions taken by the board at the meeting. He was referring to the signing of the agreement and contract with Wilson to employ the engineering firm to prepare and make plans, specifications, studies, reports and estimates of costs and to supervise construction of the work as contained in the resolution passed by the board.

If he had been present, the letter continued, he would have voted aye on both issues.

Child O. K. After Swig of Turpentine

A swig of turpentine put a 14-month old boy in the hospital for emergency treatment last Friday but he is reported to be feeling fine now.

The youngster is George Cook Jr., of Hazel Crest. He and his mother, the former Geraldine Simulcik, were visiting at her parents home, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Simulcik. Some painting was in progress at the home and George eluded restriction long enough to hoist a small jar containing turpentine and take a drink. He was treated at the Oak Forest hospital and released.

Board of Education Holds First Meeting In New School Addition

Four classrooms and the administrative offices of the new addition to the Central school, Tinley Park, have been completed and only the finishing touches remain to complete the remaining two classrooms.

The concrete block walls are painted in soft pastel tone which blend with the blonde woodwork. Rooms are equipped with modern type light fixtures and acoustical tile ceilings. Floors are of tile. Windows in the modern, spacious rooms extend from the ceiling and the space below is lined with bookshelves. Doors, desks and chairs are all of blonde wood.

The fourth grade students, all of whom have been on double session since last September, moved into the new classrooms last week. The transfer from the Bert Fulton school was made quietly and efficiently, said school superintendent Walter Fierke, and pupils adapt quickly to their new quarters.

At the meeting of the board of education last week, held for the first time in the new administrative section, last week, members agreed the drape material recommended by the committee were the best for school use. They are of grey fireproof material and will be installed in the new section as well as rooms in the Bert Fulton school.

The board is pleased the new addition was constructed in the period of time planned, even though the work was done during the winter months.

The contractor for the new addition, who was present at the board meeting, advised members the water meter originally planned for the building, did not meet village requirements. It was shown on water plans for the addition which were submitted when application for a permit was made, he stated.

Later, the village clerk's office advised a more expensive meter must be installed, costing $260 more than the original one. The board agreed to meet the additional cost.

The total price of the water meter installed, which is of solid brass, is $560.

Recently the board of trustees of Tinley Park decided all churches and schools in the village should have water meters installed at their expense. This was done so that an accurate check may be made of the water used. These institutions do not pay for water. The village wishes these meters to be standard to facilitate handling parts in case of repairs.

Board Members

The board of education consists of Donald Hollingshead, president; Harold Kent, secretary; John R. Dotts, Milton Carlson, Victor Propp, Marcus Klepper, and Norman Wolfe.

The board operates with three committees: finance, building and grounds, and instruction. The committees meet in session and report at regular board meetings.

Each member of the board receives a copy of the minutes of each board meetings, also copies of committee reports so that each is familiar with business to be discussed before meeting is in session. Walter Fierke, superintendent of public schools submits a report at each meeting.

The terms of Hollingshead, Dotts, and Klepper expire this spring. The school board election will be held April 12, with March 22 the last day for filing petitions.

Board Considers Hiring Women Crossing Guards

The proposal to erect traffic signals to protect school children in Tinley Park has now been replaced with a proposal that women crossing guards be hired by the village instead.

A committee consisting of Harold Moore, police chief, Walter Fierke, superintendent of public schools, the Rev. Thomas O'Connell, of St. George parochial school, and trustee Tom Hatfield, came to this decision at a recent meeting.

The reasons presented by Moore to the village board Monday were that at some future time Oak Park ave. may be widened and paved by the state and lights installed at intersections. The proposed expressway which will cross thru Tinley also had a bearing on the change of thought in the matter of installing the traffic signals.

The committee agreed the best solution to the problem was hiring four women crossing guards; at 171st and Oak Park ave., Hickory and Oak Park ave., 173rd and Oak Park ave., and 175th st. and 67th ave.

The police department volunteered to purchase uniforms for the women, from the receipts of the annual police dance.

It is proposed that the guards attend the crossings a minimum of three hours a day at a salary of $4.

Village Developer To Split Cost on Main Installation

An extension to a water main will be installed between 66th ave. and 66th court on 178th st., Tinley Park by the village.

Allen Verhage, chairman of the water committee, submitted a proposal that the village handle the job rather than place it out on bids, thereby effecting a saving on cost.

The trustees accepted the proposal which arose as the result of a developer who wishes to build two homes in the area and who has offered to pay half of the cost of the water main and also place in a section of street at the location.

The total cost of the project was quoted at $1200.

PRESENTS PORTRAIT TO SCHOOL— J. C. Nicholas, (left) treasurer of the Boston Store, Joliet, represented that company in presenting a portrait of Abraham Lincoln to Lincoln-Way high school in New Lenox township. Accepting it for the school is Supt. A. Hunter Chapman. The presentation was made at the first assembly held in the school's new auditorium last Thursday, Feb. 13. Appropriately enough it was an assembly originally scheduled to pay tribute to President Lincoln. The picture is a reproduction of an oil painting by John Doctoroff. It is being put into a frame now and will be hung in the school library. (Marvin Smith photo)

Explorer "Trustees" Discuss Needs, Problems of Teenagers

Watching elected officials perform village business at a council meeting Monday night were members of the Tinley Park explorer post 295 and Boy Scout troop 255. The explorer crew replaced the trustees for a half-hour session to hold interesting discussions on three matters of important to teenagers.

The boys also toured the police and fire departments to get a first hand lesson on civics. They were accompanied by leaders Jack Spiegelman, explorer advisor and Archie Alberts, scout leader.

Topics discussed by the junior trustees in an earnest, convincing manner were—the curfew—the need for recreational facilities for teenagers in Tinley Park, and responsibility of teenagers with motor cycles, motor scooters and autos.

The curfew hour, which is 10 pm. in the village was tossed around by the boys, with the majority believing that extenuating circumstances sometimes made it necessary to be on the streets at a later hour, such as when returning from basketball games or parties with a stopover at a pizza house.

The interested audience of adults could not help but feel if all teenagers had the sense of responsibility revealed in the boy's discussion, the curfew would not be necessary. The curfew would have been extended to 11 p.m. if they had had the authority to do so.

Definite Ideas

The youngsters expressed definite ideas on the type of recreational facilities they would like to enjoy.

They placed the responsibility for supplying these facilities on the village board, stating the town should sponsor a hot rod club. Also, a motion was made by Bruce Klingaman that the village board set up a fund to erect a recreational center.

A hot rod club, the teenagers believe would reduce reckless driving by setting up rules on safety of automobiles and penalizing those who did not follow the rules of the club, by barring the use of the drag strip. The boys would like to see a park district formed in Tinley

Tracy M. Smith, Father of Tinley Merchants, Dies

Funeral services were held at Morris (Grundy county) Monday for Tracy M. Smith, father of Charles Smith, Tinley Park hardware dealer.

Mr. Smith died Friday in the home of another son, Thurold H. Smith at Joliet, following a long illness. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Smith was the son of Thomas and Isabelle Smith, early settlers of Grundy county. For the past five years he had made his home at Joliet. Prior to that he resided at Morris where he operated a garage for 18 years.

His wife, Olive, died in 1927. Besides the two sons, Mr. Smith is survived by one grandchild and one great grandchild.

Services were held Monday afternoon from the Davis funeral home at Morris, with the Rev. Julius Hinton Massey, of Plainfield, officiating. Interment was in Mazon cemetery.

Tinley to Have 24-Hour Protection - Hire 2 More Police

Two additional men have been added to the Tinley Park police force. They are Gordon Erskine and Walter Barton who will report for duty March 1.

Park. They would also like civic organizations to sponsor recreational facilities for teenagers. Another motion made by Bruce Klingaman and passed by the junior trustees was that the village board take up the matter of organizing teen groups, and attempt to obtain aid from other organizations.

The boys were agreed that the age for obtaining driving licenses should be lowered or special permits given to those under the age limit, in cases where they need an automobile to get to a job, especially in the summer.

Fierke, chairman of the fire and police commission, on a competitive examination held Nov. 19, 1957, that the two men be appointed. Barton received 84½ points and Erskine 78½ points to head the list of five who took the examination.

HOLDER OF THE KEY

Will the current decline in business continue? Or will it level off? Or will a new upward surge set in?

To a very great extent, the answers to these and other such questions will be found in the state of retail trade during the months ahead.

This, in effect, was what Professor Malcolm T. McNair, the distinguished Harvard University authority on retailing, told the recent convention of the National Retail Merchants Association. In his words: "The consumer holds the key not only to the fortunes of retail business in 1958, but in a larger sense to the fortunes of the total economy."

This view has become a generally held one. The heavy stress used to be laid upon production figures. But consumption figures are equally important, and some think they are more important. Its obvious that production in any line can't hold up long unless people buy the goods. So the volume of retail trade directly determines what goes on in the factories.

Retailers know that competition will be tough this year. They know that consumers are doing more shopping around and more planning before buying. Every merchant will do all he can to offer the most attractive inducements and the best buys possible. And, it is good to report, most retail spokesmen seem reasonably optimistic about the sales prospects.

ARE YOU FIT TO DRIVE?

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association and is elaborated in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets. If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel.

Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong; some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up—to become mature.

Sleepiness. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drink coffee or cola to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets, etc., may dull reflexes or impair co-ordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effect of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision, certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age—and, of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

This clipping was taken from the publication "Scouting" under a heading appropriately titled "Worth Retelling". It sure is worth retelling because I believe that it has in it the very cause of one of the greatest problems in America today. It should rate a prominent place in your newspaper.

You Can't Fool Kids. Good solid food for thought in the following comment signed "Just a boy", quoted from the Buffalo Evening News.

"Juvenile delinquency is nothing more than a by-product. A by-product of what? Of adult delinquency. Eradicate adult delinquency and juvenile delinquency will cease automatically."

"We are not likely to be better than our parents, except in extraordinary cases. If parents insist on going out on 'drunks', whether in night clubs or other spots, if parents never go to church, if parents never pray, if parents never ask blessing at meals, if parents never pray, stores, if parents buy suggestive magazines, what can you expect of sons and daughters?"

Gas Company Meets Demands of Zero Spell

The recent record-breaking 485 million cubic feet gas send-out over the Feb. 9 week-end was taken in stride by Northern Illinois Gas Company dispatchers whose work assures that natural gas is continuously available to each of the approximately 600,000 customers in the utility's 266 community service area.

Scientific estimation of the exact volume of gas necessary to heat the quarter-million natural gas-heated homes served by Northern Illinois Gas enables constant indoor temperatures in these homes automatically and dependably.

As featured in the current issue of "Flame", the gas company's employee magazine, the gas dispatchers spend 24 hours every day of every week converting weather data into pressures and volumes of gas. Their work controls the flow of gas to meet each customer's requirements and enables the most efficient use of gas available to the company.

Temperature Main Factor

Weather data is compiled from three sources: the company's own strategically-located stations; forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau; and prognostications by a firm of meteorological consultants retained by the utility.

Principal weather factor is temperature. The basic reading is taken at Bellwood, but hourly temperatures at Midway Airport, Park Forest, Skokie, Volo, Elgin, Aurora, Lockport and Matteson also are used to watch approaching weather changes. Occasionally temperatures at Bloomington and Dixon also are included.

Wind velocity, determined from the anemometer at Bellwood plus readings from Midway Airport and Park Forest, also is important. Illustration of this is a comparison of two recent days of similar temperature. A difference of 18 mph of wind caused a variation in gas usage of 42.2 million cubic feet—15 per cent.

Weather factors less important to gas usage are wind direction, solar radiation, thermal lag, cloudiness, relative humidity, snow cover, ground temperature and barometric pressure.

Weather Research

These factors, however, have now yet been studied sufficiently to enable precise corrections. To efficiently use these factors, measuring devices must be perfected. Toward this end, Northern Illinois Gas is conducting a research project at Park Forest. More accurate data on temperature, wind and solar radiation are being obtained and other factors are being evaluated.

Use of weather data in planning cannot be minimized for home fuel requirements vary with as much as 1500 per cent during a year.

However, weather computations are only part of dispatchers' jobs. Almost 4,000 daily telephone reports are made to allocate the gas load estimates to the company's 70 supply stations and control pumping, metering, regulating, storage, and supplementary gas production.

All these operations assure that no matter what the weather, the customer's home will be heated automatically and dependably.

The demand for free advice is never equal to the supply.

Citizens Committee

The Cooper's Grove Citizens' committee held its regular monthly meeting on Feb. 13. Routine reports were given and an informative talk on local government and incorporation by Asst. State's Attorney Don Moore. Some 60 people from the school district enjoyed his talk.

Report on Scouts

Carl Timmermann, chairman of the Youth Activities committee and local I. R. for the Boy Scout organization, reported the coming Blue and Gold Cub Scouts banquet has now 200 reservations. Mr. Timmermann also announced that the Boy Scouts can now be chartered at any time. They have 19 boys registered forming four patrols. They also have supplied Den Chiefs for the Cub Scouts.

Sweetheart Dance

The chairman of the social committee, Bill Hastings, announced that the Sweetheart Dance would be held at the VFW hall in Homewood, Feb. 22, starting at eight o'clock. Persons have been assigned to cover blocks in the school district to sell tickets. If you have not been contacted on buying tickets more information can be had by calling Bill Hastings at SY 8-5591.

Local Governments

In his talk, Don Moore explained the setup of a local government including township village and city governments. His comments on the latest road annexations b v nearby towns brought questions from the floor as to the pros and cons of incorporating the area of Country Club Hills. A question that will probably receive further airing at the next Citizens' Committee meeting.

Mr. Ozzie Tattum, trustee of the village of Tinley Park, explained Tinley Park's position in annexing roadways around Tinley Park. In a statement he said that the Village of Tinley Park would not interfere with plans that the people of Country Club Hills may have for incorporation.

We wish to thank both these gentlemen for their time and information and also for contributing to one of the best meetings we have held.

President Bill Marquardsen announced that the next meeting of the Citizens' committee will be held in the VFW hall in Homewood, Monday March 17.

Financing of Schools

"Financing of Schools" will be the topic of the address given by Leland H. Rayson at the next meeting of the Cooper's Grove PTA, on Thursday, Feb. 20, at 8:00 p.m. in the new community firehouse on Patrick ave. in Country Club Hills.

Mr. Rayson is well known to the community as Bremen Township assessor. He is also a lawyer and real estate broker. He has served two terms on the school board of district 146 and has been a candidate for the office of State Senator. Mr. Rayson, presently Democratic candidate from the 4th district for the office of U. S. Congressman, has studied financing of schools and is well qualified to speak on this subject. He and his family reside in Tinley Park.

Who Wants Petitions?

If you wish to be a candidate for the April election of our new 7-man school board, you'd better get your petitions now. They are at the home of the present board clerk, Mr. Simmons, whose phone is KE 2-3028. They must be turned in by Feb. 26 with 50 names or more.

Mr. Simmons lives in the fourth home on the north side of 183rd, past Cicero. This is just outside our community boundaries, and many of our school district 160 families live west of Cicero.

Whoever wishes, may file their petition on Feb. 26 and withdraw it by March 22. I wish I could, but I will wait my turn—when I get more of my several young children off to school and have hours enough for the day's work to be done. I urge every responsible man and woman to take out a petition now. This is the year when we face rapid growth. State assistance in new buildings, enlarged staffs, etc. This is the time of greatest need. No experience is required. Just a level head, and pride in the public school system.

Patrols Protect Us

Sheriff's highway police patrol our streets when we call in reports of any suspicious acts. The phone is SY 8-3181. The key to good service is: cooperation. Call in all suspicions and give accurate reports.

$73 in the Oven

The Mothers Club of Coopers Grove school was proud (and amazed) to find that their bake sale last week brought in $73—all in about an hour and a half. I personally think we would all be happy to buy home baked goods from them more often. Wouldn't you like some fresh cakes or coffee rolls on Saturday mornings? Lillian Thomas, their president, wishes to thank the many who helped make the sale a success.

League of Women Voters

This non-political group invites us to join the Tinley Park League. Mrs. Stella Dean called me last week and stated Tinley Park is completing a valuable analysis of its community. Any of us ladies here in Country Club Hills may attend their next meeting as guests. Time and place to be announced.

Also—I have received a marvelous paper book from Mrs. Dean which tells the entire history, purpose and methods of the League's work to spread knowledge of our government processes to all citizens. I may keep it one more week. If you wish to borrow it, call me.

Mr. Tobin Recognizes It

Andrew J. Tobin, our school principal, has ordered a new book offered by the League of Women Voters which will contain maps, charts, and explanations of government districts, of fices etc. This information is given as a free gift by the League to public schools who wish it. Individual copies cost $1.

Dwight is Right

For months I've noticed what a fine boy our newsboy seems to be. He often walks home in the snow with my first grade son, calmly answering all his babyish questions and letting him "help" on his job of carrying newspapers to each mail box. Tagging along is always a little black terrier named "Cookie". Lately, in the deep snow, the newsboy has trained the dog to pull the sled of papers!

Two weeks ago my husband, who has been helping with Cub Scouts, said his boisterous and noisy den was being helped from now on by a Den Chief, a Star Scout, and the Den Mother, Mrs. Berdan, was so pleased. Yes, it was none other than the same newsboy, Dwight Pentzien who has worked two years in the Scouts.

"Listen, if you're going to write about me in your column, you be sure to mention my business partner, 'Cookie', he called in my door—after making a special trip back to add this order. Now, when a teenage boy wants to share glory with his dog—what better recommendation could be given?"

Old Screen Doors?

Country Club Hills Christian church requests that those who had screen doors removed when storm doors were added, please offer these old ones to be used for folding screens to separate their classes meeting in the parsonage.

Their Hearts are Right

Men of our community who have volunteered to make a house to house canvas of our homes, this Sunday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. for National Heart Fund say collections are to date: Ed. Radatz, 18140 Mary Ann lane; Harold Wittorp, 17940 Michael; George Huemmer, 17955 Michael; Joseph McCoy, 18000 Thomas; Don Wilson, 17925 John; Frank Peterson, 4740 W. 185th and Ray Potts, 18440 So. John. Other men will be welcome of course.

I, Rusty Wilson, who is chairman of the drive, have arranged for Heart coin card to be mailed to our schools. If you would like to get out and meet your neighbors for a worthy cause, call me at SY 8-5669.

Dirty Ditches

Many of us may be wondering just what is planned for those open drainage ditches criss crossing our community? Well, none worry so much as two ladies down my street: Arlene Pavlovich and Esther Schoenrad. These poor ladies are the mothers of pre-school age babies and face an awful spring ahead as a drainage ditch was cut unexpectedly—and without their permission—across their front yards!

The best answer I can give all those who worry about safety of young children near such dangerous ditches is that the Homeowners Association will surely list this as one of its first problems when it gets fully organized. Press your delegates with your opinions on such matters.

APOLOGY

Nobody knows just how the wrong caption was put under our fine photo of the new officers elected at our Homeowners Association, as published in last week's "Times." This photo was taken by a professional photographer sent here by this paper and somehow, it got printed with the name "Hickory Hills Homeowners Assoc." Naturally, nobody would gain from such a mistake, so I apologize for the staff of the paper.

My husband is familiar with all printing processes and has explained that photos do cost a fortune to reproduce on this type of press used by the Tinley Park Times. That is why we can not have more photographs, else I would be requesting them every week for our readers.

Questions? Call me. News? Mail or bring it to 17925 S. John ave. This is Rusty Wilson, saying: til next week then—

Democrats In 4th District Organize Clubs

Plans were made to form a number of grass roots Democratic clubs in the Fourth Congressional district at a meeting in the home of Albert Scheele of LaGrange last Thursday. Such clubs have been inspired by a type of political organization that swept California several years ago and are gaining a great deal of momentum in downstate Illinois.

Seventeen residents from LaGrange, Oak Lawn, Evergreen Park, and the tenth ward of Chicago attended the meeting. Scheele, a member of the provisional board of directors of the DFI, was the chairman.

Several of the leaders of the DuPage Council of Democratic clubs in a strongly Republican their experience in organizing clubs were invited to tell of community. Following an informal discussion of the problems of building Democratic clubs in the Fourth Congressional district, the group decided to recruit interested people from other towns in the area to discuss the project further. Will Convert Golf Course to Picnic Grove (CNS)—Lansing Airport golf course in Bloom township will be turned into a picnic grove with recreational meadows by the forest preserve district of Cook county.

The conversion was approved Monday by district commissioners on recommendation of Charles G. Sauers, general superintendent, who announced acquisition of the property for $100,000. It consists of 110 acres at the northwest corner of Torrence and Glenwood-Lansing roads.

Sauers said the 18-hole golf course is in "bad shape", and the cost to rehabilitate the grounds suitable for good golf play "would cost too much."

"It's just a lousy golf course", Sauers said. The terrain is flat and there are no bunkers or any natural hazards, he explained.

Land Cost $100,000

Sauers pointed out the district operates two other golf courses in the general area—the Burnham course at 142nd street and Burnham avenue and the Pipe O'Peace course at 130th and Halsted streets. These two courses haven't been playing to capacity, Sauers said.

The Lansing Airport course was acquired thru court condemnation proceedings. The purchase price was determined by a jury verdict returned in 1956. Its $100,000 valuation on the property was upheld last month by the Illinois supreme court, Sauers said.

Owners of the property were listed as John and Helen Krol, of Harvey, by the district's real estate department.

Trees will be planted on the new forest preserve next Fall, Sauers said, adding he expects the conversion project will take about 5 years to complete.

Toll Commission Gets Easements

(CNS)—Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty of Cook county has signed a judgment order granting the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission easement at no cost on several roads in Lyons and Palos townships that will be crossed by the Tri-State tollway route.

In return the tollway commission agreed:

1. To keep 87th street and Roberts road open to through traffic by constructing overpasses for the turnpike.
2. To do the same at Wolf rd., Plainfield road, 71st street, and the south half of 55th street.
3. To construct underpasses for the tollway to keep Willow Springs road open to thru traffic and do the same at 5th ave.

Under terms of the court order these streets will dead-end at the tollway: 85th street, 82nd avenue, and Sunset avenue.

These will be partially closed: 84th place and Bobolink drive.

Seventy-second street will be relocated south and west of the toll road to a new connection with Willow Springs road opposite the intersection of relocated 5th avenue with Willow Springs road.

Animals that have survived an acute attack of anaplasmosis usually remain carriers of the disease for life, veterinary authorities report.

this discussion they hope an organizing conference for the district can be planned for early spring.

Persons who wish to learn more about the program of the DFI are invited to call Scheele at FI 2-8100, or call the DFI office at WA 2-2645.

Say U. S. Scholarship Grants Could Cut Down School Support

Federal government intervention in education, thru the proposed grants of college scholarships, may result in less support for education instead of more, according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

An editorial in the NAM News says that the entry of the Federal government into the field of higher education might well cause private citizens, and state and local authorities, to ease up on their own efforts to provide college-education opportunities, and seek Federal scholarship assistance, adding:

"All over the United States at this moment, families are planning for the higher education of their children. Insurance policies are being bought and small sums are being put aside regularly so that necessary funds will be available for college when the time comes. Business concerns and individuals are studying just what action they can take to increase support for education in the form of additional scholarships or contributions to institutions of learning."

What Might Happen

But with the Federal government stepping into this area—even with what is intended as an emergency program apparently inspired by recent Russian successes in the satellite and missile fields—"many of these plans and activities will undergo thoughtful review," the editorial holds, and continues:

"Parents will be inclined to seek Federal scholarships for their children rather than undergo personal sacrifice themselves. Boys and girls will have the government pay their way rather than do part time work before and after entering college. Business concerns and individuals, being taxed already to support Federal aid, will be less inclined to pay the bill twice through private contributions."

"There will not be enough scholarships to go around, of course, but this will serve as an argument for increasing the program. The government will constantly widen its participation to make up for the slackening of private effort but the end result could well be less support for education instead of more."

State Hospital Head to Address PTA Council

Dr. Cutler will speak on mental health in reference to children. Central school is located at 173rd street and 67th Court.

There will also be an election of officers for the 1958-1959 term. At the Council board meeting held January 28 at the Harding school, Mrs. Walter Barton of Tinley Park, chairman of the nominating committee presented the following slate of nominees: President, Mrs. Philip Wheaton of Forest Ridge PTA; vice president, Mrs. Donald Johnson of Midlothian PTA; recording secretary, Mrs. Raymond Hammar of Midlothian PTA; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Juravek of Quin PTA, and treasurer, Mrs. B. G. DeWitt of Palos Heights PTA.

Senior Citizens May Form Club In Palos Area

The Palos Heights Woman's club is conducting a survey to determine the amount of interest there would be in organizing a Senior Citizen's club to give the older people of the Palos and the surrounding communities an opportunity to meet other residents of this area with mutual interests. The club will be open to anyone who, finding that their major home responsibilities have lessened, now have the time to join socially with others of their own age group to develop and enlarge their interests or hobbies.

The club will meet at the Community Center Foundation, where key resource personnel will be available to assist in arranging any activities that may be desired by the group. Transportation will be provided when needed. The first meeting will be held in the spring, the exact date to be announced after the registrations have been completed. Registrations must be made by April 5th.

Anyone interested in registering or desirous of more information may call Mrs. Paul Lindenmeyer, Gibson 8-1096 or write Box 533, Palos Heights, Ill.

Law On The Farm

By JAMES J. ELSON
(Member of the Illinois Bar)

Persons operating farm tractors in Illinois ordinarily are not required by law to have an operator's (driver's) license.

To be exempt from the driver's license requirement, the tractor operator must be driving the tractor only between the home farm and adjacent or nearby lands. The law does not define "nearby." And he must be operating the tractor exclusively for the purpose of conducting farm operations.

This exemption is not so liberal as it formerly was. Prior to 1953, persons temporarily driving or operating a farm tractor or implement of husbandry on a highway were exempt from the operator's license requirement regardless of the purpose of location of the use.

Since the driver's license law applies only to highway operation, it is always lawful for anyone without an operator's license to operate a tractor in a field. But the term "highway" is not limited to paved and numbered state routes. By law, highway includes every publicly maintained way when any part of it is open to the public for vehicular travel. Thus country roads are highways within the meaning of the driver's license law, and unless a tractor is being used within the terms of the exemption, it will be necessary for the driver to have an operator's license.

Tinley to Get Street Signs

A program of installing street signs will soon be undertaken in Tinley Park.

Village trustees agreed to the recommendation of Tom Hatfield, street chairman, to install 104 street signs on streets now lacking identification.

At the board meeting Monday a sample of the signs to be installed was displayed to trustees.

Visiting relatives and truck drivers delivering merchandise will be happy that this action is finally being taken after being picked up and dropped for several years.

The board also agreed to purchase a power auger at a cost of $200 to dig the holes for the street sign posts. This piece of equipment will be used in conjunction with the tractor-digger recently purchased by the village.

The cost of the street signs was quoted at $15 each installed.

Trustee C. Robert Lillie suggested that the matter of streets with duplicate names in the village be taken up with the plan commission to rename some streets.

While on the discussion of streets, Hatfield advised the board that in a talk with Donald Dies, developer of Dies subdivision, the latter refused to install street lights in the subdivision. He offered to cooperate with the board in persuad-

Mokena Scouts Will Be Hosts At Camp-Out

Art Omland, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 40 in Mokena, has extended an invitation to all Boy Scout troops in the Louis Joliet District to attend a district spring camp-out at Community Park in Mokena. This is the first time in years that a single troop has been host for such a camp-out, and it is gratifying to have Troop 40 take this interest to promote the "outing" in scouting.

The main purpose of this camp-out is to promote camp skills, camp craft, and fun. Camp site sanitation and judging will be under the supervision of the health and safety committee. Contests will be on compass, fire building, fire by flint and steel, tent pitching, rope work, tracking and a chariot race.

Each patrol is asked to make a chariot large enough for one boy to ride and four boys to pull. The chariot race is an old time custom which is being revived for competition between patrols in the Rainbow Council.

Each troop is asked to make a camp gateway to be erected at the camp site. Judging will be based on originality and rustic appearance.

Registrations and fee of 75c per person must be sent to Boy Scout Headquarters, 234 East Cass Street, Joliet, not later than May 1. Further information may be obtained by contacting Paul Tilkalski, Scout Field Executive, at the Boy Scout Headquarters, Joliet.

Former Resident of New Lenox Dies In Calif.

Mrs. Lura Johnston, former resident of New Lenox, died in her home in Glendale, Calif., Tuesday, Feb. 18, following several months illness.

Born in Peoria, Oct. 13, 1889, the daughter of the late Margaret and David Deadmore, she moved to Joliet with her parents when a child. Her father was conductor on the EJ&E railroad until his death.

She was united in marriage with George Johnston of Joliet in 1908 and lived there for many years until moving to the Camp grounds in New Lenox where they purchased a home. Following his death 13 years ago she moved to Glendale, where she has lived since.

Surviving are a son, David, city engineer of East St. Louis; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Reasley, Evanston; eight grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Winke, Lockport, Mrs. Dede Goff, Glendale and Mrs. Virginia Moore, Telfer, Tenn., and a brother, Lew Deadmore, Blue Island. She was preceded in death by two sisters and two brothers, Clifton, of Chicago, and Hugh Deadmore of Mokena.

The body is being shipped to the Sonntag funeral home in Joliet where it is expected friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening. Plans are being made for funeral services Monday with burial to be made in Cedar Park cemetery, Chicago.

"Some people prefer to be counted out when the time comes to give an accounting," The Vandalia Union.

"Glimmer, glimmer, little sputnik; I'm no stupe, no matter whatnik. As you beep-beep on your axis, I get the message—higher taxes." —The Waterloo Republican.

Extend Rural Mail Service To Brightwood

Rural mail service is to be extended to Brightwood subdivision west of Mokena beginning Saturday, Feb. 22, it was announced by Margaret O'Brien Mokena postmaster.

Instructions for erecting mail boxes have been issued by the postmaster. Persons residing on East Brightwood must place their boxes on the west side of the street. Those living on South Brightwood are to erect the boxes on the north side of the street.

Patrons residing on North Brightwood will erect boxes on the south side of the street.

Boxes of residents on Burr Oak Lane must be placed on the west side of the street and those on Elwood Court on the south side of the thoroughfare.

The bottom of the box should be at least 42 inches from the ground and placed close enough to the edge of the road that the carrier can service it from his car. Patrons must have their names displayed on the boxes and are required to keep the approached maintained.

The carrier is Fremont Warren.

Clear Obstacles to Sewer Project

While Mokena has not sold its bonds yet to finance its proposed sewer system all the legal preliminaries necessary are now said to be out of the way.

Once a firm commitment is made on the bonds work can begin—weather conditions permitting.

There was talk that perhaps the job could be started in another three weeks. But the intense cold that has prevailed has sent the frost so deep that it probably will be a month or six weeks before work could be started.

And while on the subject of snow the Mokena trustees have purchased a blade to be used on the village's tractor. The tractor is not heavy enough to battle deep snow or drifts but trustees believe that it will be able to cope with the normal snowfall of this area.

The snow pushing chore will be done by Fred Steinhagen, village maintenance man, or Trustee Willard Munch.

Motorists should hold their own lanes on super-highways. The few seconds gained by weaving from one lane to another is not worth the few seconds saved and the risk involved.

Lincoln-Way Mat Team Wallops West Chicago

The Knights now await the district meet to be held at Carl Sandburg beginning Feb. 22.

Carved in stone at Mount Rushmore in South Dakota are the faces of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt and Abraham Lincoln.

The final quarter saw the Methodists chalk up 17 points to 10 for the Stars. Sundblad had three points in the final quarter for the Methodists.

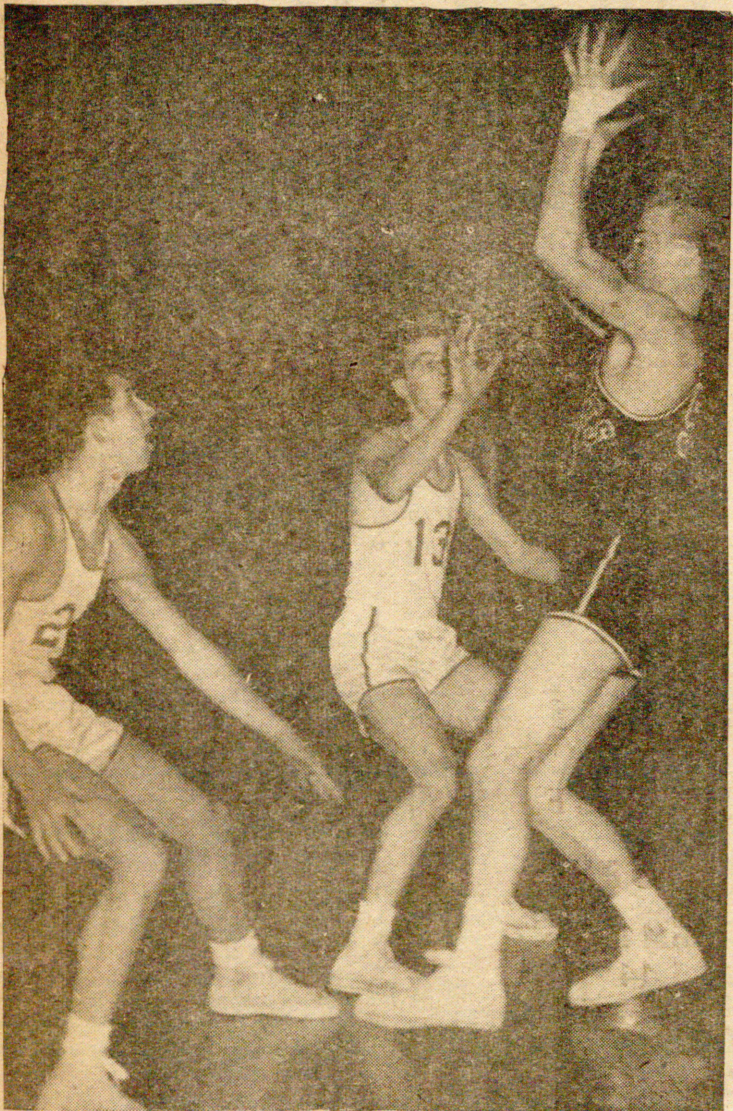

A rancher in California reported to veterinary authorities that Anaplasmosis has cost him the equivalent of a well equipped ranch during his active years of ranching.

Mokena's Meteors climbed back to the top of the Des-Plaines Valley Conference Friday with a hard fought victory over Troy 27 to 21. Mokena's win combined with losses suffered by Rockdale and Channahon threw the Conference into a four-way tie for first place. Laraway is the other team with their sights on the title. They all have suffered two losses but Laraway and Channahon have only seven wins compared to eight for Rockdale and Mokena. Channahon and Laraway will play one another this week and then Laraway comes to Mokena Friday. Every indication points to the championship being decided on the final evening's play.

Driving in traffic and reading a map don't mix, the Chicago Motor Club says. Motorists on long trips should plan their routes in advance, anticipating a change of direction. Last-second stopping or turning may result in an accident.

A FLEETING MOMENT in the Lincoln-Way-Sandburg varsity basketball game last Friday at Lincoln-Way. The Lincoln-Way player holding the ball aloft is demonstrating the principal tactic—control of the ball. Unfortunately for the Knights and fortunately for the Eagles, Lincoln-Way was unable to keep the ball long enough and was unable to shoot enough baskets when it did. (Marvin Smith photo).

Eagles Defeat Knights 56 to 42; Both Play Oak Lawn This Week-end

The Carl Sandburg high school varsity basketball team won two week-end games, one in league play, to remain in contention for the Southwest Suburban conference crown. On Friday night Sandburg turned back Lincoln-Way by a score of 56-42 as Coach John Jorstad employed all twelve players.

Pat Ford, leading conference scorer was held in close check and managed to score only seven points for his lowest output of the season. Rich Aird picked up the slack as he scored 17 points to lead all scorers. John Arnold effectively controlled the backboards as he gathered in a total of 19 rebounds. Jessen of Lincoln-Way led the Knight scorers with 16 points.

In the curtain raiser between the frosh-soph fives, Sandburg was the winner, 39 to 27. On Saturday the freshmen teams from the two schools met and Lincoln-Way won 46 to 30.

On Saturday night the Eagles romped over Minooka, (Grundy county), by a score of 82-61 as Pat Ford hit for 38 points. Once again Coach Jorstad employed his entire squad. Mark Hill controlled the backboards with 21 rebounds.

Sandburg continues the chase of the leading Bremen Braves for conference honors as they engage Oak Lawn at Oak Lawn this week-end. Bremen now leads the conference with nine wins and one loss and Sandburg is in second place with eight wins and one loss. Bremen still has Reavis and Rich to play while Sandburg has Oak Lawn and Evergreen Park.

The Sandburg-Oak Lawn tilt is scheduled for Saturday night. On Friday night Lincoln-Way is host to Oak Lawn. In the first meeting between the Oaks and the Knights this season, Lincoln-Way lost and would like to get revenge tomorrow night.

SCHOOL ELECTION

We again wish to emphasize the special election being held March 1 between 12 noon and 7:00 pm. in Arbor Park School in Oak Forest for the purpose of giving residents of School District No. 145 an opportunity to express their desires for a school to be erected in Kimberly Heights. It should be noted that you do not have to be registered to vote. The only requisite is that you are over twenty one, a resident of the state for one year, the county three months, and the school district thirty days. Transportation will be provided to those requiring it. Due to this being a Saturday the men can participate as well as the women.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh of 6300 Gaynelle Road in Kimberly Heights, Jack was elected president of the Home Owners Association and for this reason we are bestowing the honor of the first neighbor presentation. Both Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were born and raised in Chicago, and were residents there until their move here in July of 1956. Mr. Walsh is employed by a Chicago firm, and his wife teaches school in Worth, Illinois. The Walsh's have one son, Roy Herbert Gilbert, who is a senior at Purdue University where he is studying industrial engineering. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha; Pi Tau Sigma; a national engineering honorary; and Quarterdeck, a Naval ROTC honorary. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh expressed their pleasure in living in the community and have enjoyed the friendliness of all the new neighbors. The Walsh's home is always open to newcomers who want to chat about community affairs, and to help anyone get acquainted.

HOME OWNERS' ASSOCIATION
The first regular meeting of the board of directors of the Kimberly Heights Home Owners' Association was held Jan. 15, 1958. First order of new business was the appointment of committees to become acquainted with the various problems in specific areas of concern. Committees were formed and consist of personnel as follows:

School committee: Harold Kenworthy, chairman, Vernon Brockman, Mrs. J. G. Walsh, Mrs. J. W. Witte.

Sanitation Committee: Otis McNamara, chairman, George Ames, William Schueler and J. L. Vogler.

Publicity Committee: Harold Rennpage, chairman, J. C. Cheney and Carter LeBeau.

Harold DeRuntz and Ivo Mersmann were appointed representatives to the township road commissioner and zoning board to offer the co-operation of the Association where it can be of assistance. Mr. Mersmann advised that residents who have not registered to vote could do so at 14400 South Western Avenue, in Posen, or at the County Building. The directors and officers volunteered to advise residents in their block of place and time to register.

Immunity to distemper in a female dog can interfere with the production of immunity in vaccinated young pups, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

GENERAL MEETING

All 4-H members and parents are invited to attend a meeting at the Maue school, 179th and 108th ave. on Feb. 26 at 8 pm.

Robert Howard, well known in the area, will bring interesting and informational facts on the conditioning, feeding and showing of animals. He was a judge at the last 4H fair held in Chicago Heights.

Many of the young 4H members will remember him quite vividly because he told them what was wrong with their prize animal. He was connected with Hollstein-Freisian for many years and at present is with Hales and Hunter Feed Mill at Riverdale.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by W.F. Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

Some interesting facts were brought out at the recent agricultural engineering day. Farmers can expect more equipment to help in band spraying crops with weed control chemical.

It is expected that new minimum tillage equipment will also be on the market.

Minimum tillage research will turn to fall plowed ground. Much work remains to be done on this problem.

How much water, in inches, will a good tile system remove from an acre in 24 hours? Between 1/4 and 1/2 inch. And this happens only on permeable soils. Soils with gray clay layers below the surface won't drain well with tile. Shallow crossable surface ditches may be the answer on these soils.

Records of where tile are located in fields are important.

Records of where tile lines are located in fields are important. This eliminates unnecessary retilling. Records are also helpful when construction projects are going on near your farm.

James Flizzell has joined the Cook County Extension staff. His training is in the field of floriculture. He will work part time with the 4-H program in Northern Cook County. His talents will be a valuable addition to the Cook County extension program.

If your oats have a test weight of less than 28 pounds a bushel, you'll probably be ahead to feed or sell them and get new seed. This advice comes from University of Illinois agronomist W. O. Scott.

While oats weighing 32 to 36 pounds to the bushel will usually germinate 95 to 100 per cent, oats weighing 22 to 25 pounds will germinate only about 60 to 70 per cent. Scott says research also shows that the seedlings of the light-weight oats will be smaller than normal and won't catch up until about 10 weeks after seeding. Oats of normal test weight will have more vigor and can withstand adverse weather better than the lighter weight ones.

If you buy new seed, Scott recommends Clinton, Newton, and Fayette.

Altho corn acreage had dropped by more than 28 million during the past 20 years, total production has jumped more than one-billion bushels.

University of Illinois agricultural economist C. P. Schumaier explains that this corn production trend has been due to increases in the corn belt states rather than in the south.

Actually, corn-belt farmers are growing 10 per cent more of the total corn acreage than they grew 20 years ago. Southern corn growers are planting about 10 per cent less of the total acreage.

Schumaier emphasizes that many people have been misled about the increases in corn acreage, because most of the counties added to the commercial corn area in the past five years have been in the south. But this change has been due largely to rising yields, not to more acres of corn.

Before you buy trees and shrubs for planting this spring, check the soil and other cultural conditions of the planting sites.

Find out whether the soil is wet or dry, whether the drainage is good or poor, whether the planting site has any shade and whether it is protected from cold winter winds. Then compare those conditions with the soil and cultural requirements of the plants you want to buy.

In some cases soil conditions can be changed to meet the needs of the plants. But it's best to select a plant that is adapted to the present conditions.

Also consider the ornamental you buy. Find out the flower characteristics of plants before color, blooming season, height, texture and growth habits (upright or spreading) of each plant. A wise selection will include variety in each.

Trees and shrubs can serve a variety of purposes in your landscape setting. They can screen an unattractive view and give interest to a dark shaded area; shrubs with white blossoms are appropriate for such areas. They can frame a view to the house or away from the house. They can give shade in the summertime. And evergreens provide winter interest in a landscape setting.

passed out.

Elaine Yunker told about how to plan and take care of a garden. The meeting closed with the 4-H pledge.

Following the meeting the members participated in the bidding when their Valentine boxes were auctioned.

Games were played and refreshments were served by Marie Meier and Sharon Lauffer. —Elaine Yunker, reporter.

OF CHANCE

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble." But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books that are recognized by federal law—the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

Whatever your prescription calls for, we are prepared to fill it.

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Several weeks ago this column carried information regarding the development of other than petroleum products for rocket and missile fuel.

In the news item of a few days ago, the Wall Street Journal points out that altho this market is tiny today, it can be expected to soar into the billion dollar a year class by the early 1960's.

To spur research in this new fuel, the government has spent more than $100 million. A search for such fuels was started by the Navy in 1952 under a "Project Zip." The first of these zip fuels was a boron-carbon-hydrogen combination and popularly known as boranes. They deliver as much as 40 per cent more energy than petroleum based fuels and 15 per cent more energy than any other type of rocket fuel in use today.

Use of these Zip fuels can mean a corresponding boost, in the range, speed, or pay load of missiles and aircraft. Scientists say that this fuel development is a must if propulsion systems are to keep pace with advances in missile and aircraft design.

There are two existing fuels of this type, HiCal, made by Callery Chemical Co. at Lawrence, Kan. and HEF produced by Olin Mathieson Corp. at Niagara Falls, N. Y. The government is financing the greater part of both of these plants. The cost of these super fuels is expected to run between $50 and $60 a gallon with standard jet fuels costing about 20 cents or less. It is expected the zip fuels will be more than halved by 1960. The cost, however, is unimportant when compared with the military need for such fuel. Many persons engaged in this high energy fuel development believe that costs will be reduced to as little as $1 per gallon and the fuel generally used in commercial aviation.

A new combination has now joined Callery Chemical and Olin Mathieson in this field. Phillips Petroleum and North American Aviation have jointly formed a new firm named Astrodyne, Inc. Phillips is contributing its research in solid fuel and North American its pioneer work in missile power plants.

Money and Know-how

This history of the chemical industry shows large reductions of cost are possible as production increases.

To get into this field requires very considerable financial ability and production know-how. A recent development is very interesting.

Callery Chemical was formed by Mine Safety Appliances with this firm owning 75 per cent of Gulf Oil Co., owning 25 per cent and with Gulf Oil having an option to buy an additional 25 per cent.

The other firm presently in the field is Olin Mathieson, a large chemical firm.

Olin Mathieson owns a half interest in Reaction Motors, a pioneer in motors designed for such fuels. Thiokol Chemical has teamed with Callery Chemical to develop engines using

Harvey Federal Savings Shows Big Increases

Increased activity in savings accounts during a 47th anniversary celebration was reflected in the monthly statement of Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association. The net addition to savings balances was $269,537, almost four times the previous January figure of $71,948.

The association's monthly statement to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago reports an increase of 1,084 savings accounts since January 31, 1957, to a current total of 10,675, and an increase in savings balances of $2,299,610 to $16,631,695.

Commenting on the financial statement, president John Bardwick, Jr. said: "Continued growth in savings accounts contributes to a very healthy situation in the south suburban area. Home building and purchasing has been high during the past year, and there are indications that the upward trend will be maintained in 1958. Therefore, it is possible to invest these new savings in top-quality first mortgages, at a profit to our savings customers."

At the end of January, Harvey Federal's assets stood at $20,188,628, of which the principal item was $17,236,950 in mortgage loans representing 2,440 mortgage accounts.

Recently it was announced that Thiokol Chemical is to merge with Reaction Motors.

The new fuels field will be most interesting to investors. However, Mine Safety Appliances due to its comparatively small capitalization—only some 302,000 shares outstanding—would appear likely to reflect success in this particular field more directly than Olin Mathieson or Gulf Oil which have wide interests and large amounts of stock outstanding. Mine Safety Appliances is a firm well known to the Chemical industry over many years. It has been considered to be a very conservative firm active in conservative research.

The company either owns or controls the following subsidiaries: Callery Chemical, B. F. McDonald Co., Catalyst Research Corp., James L. Waters, Inc., their Canadian British, South African, Venezuelan and Mexican subsidiaries, and the M.S.A. Research Corp. Much of the work of these subsidiaries is of a classified military nature and details unavailable.

Read 1 Corinthians 3:9-17.
We work with God, and that means that you are a field under Gods cultivation. (1 Corinthians 3:9. Phillips.)

People approach the Lenten season in different ways. For some this is the period of self-denial, the time to say "No" to some indulgence. For others, Lent is the season in which to practice the cultivation of "our soul's little garden,—part of the great garden of God," as Evelyn Underhill has expressed it.

The loveliness of a garden and the usefulness of a man's life do not just happen. Pruning, weeding, transplanting these need to be done in every garden, and from season to season, if beauty is to follow.

Do not a well-kept garden and a man doing God's will both witness to the love and understanding care used in their development? A charming garden proves that man cares; a life in harmony with Christ testifies to the power of God's love.

PRAYER

Eternal God, Father of all men, may we this day choose to walk with Thee. We know it will exact from strict discipline, but we understand that only so can our lives be made beautiful and useful in thy kingdom. Thine shall be the glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The Christian life requires cultivation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that all things are possible to God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, February 23.

Scriptural passages in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" will include the following from Isaiah (40:28): "Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? There is no searching of his understanding."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (180:25): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is from Job (36:5): "Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom."

Each of us who has grown to maturity knows only too well that the bad things we have thought and done live on, if only in our dreams, to haunt and plague us. But, likewise, the good things we think and do live on to bless us—sometimes in unexpected ways when we most need comfort-ing.

Talk about good luck—The Spainhour family will not have to put up with the zero weather any longer, we are sorry to see them leave the community, but a fine position in Ft. Worth, Texas, and a nice climate certainly warrant the move. The boys and Mrs. Spainhour will join dad as soon as their house is sold. Best wishes.

Mrs. Louise Krahulec reports she is feeling fine now. The hospital is a thing of the past. Kenneth Hansen is home from the hospital after a cyst operation, but will be taking it easy on the road back to robust health. The flu put Joe Yokley out of commission for a while.

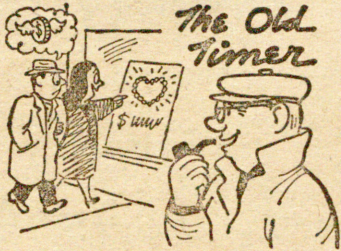

On the brighter side, Mrs. Joe Yokley gave a luncheon for Mrs. Warren Mancke recently in honor of the Mancke's moving to their newly built home in Mokena. Present were: Mrs. Frank Schudt, Mrs. Floyd Rauch, Mrs. Irene Bettenhausen, Mrs. Tom Grote and Mrs. Mancke. Last Saturday night there were two birthday celebrations in our area: Happy birthday to Agnes Peters and Harvey Uitto. Mrs. Uitto had a home town guest, Sgt. Kenneth Jokinen of Rantoul air force base, for a few days. Sgt. Jokinen was en route to Negaunee, Mich.

How many snow drifts and ditches did the writer, Mary Seppa, and Ruth Uitto get stuck in last Saturday during Proper-ship drive? We are glad to re-idea. port it was worth it, as many new members will be at the next association meeting March 6.

Parents of teen agers in the community met at Kirby school Monday night in conjunction with the Teen club project sponsored by the association.

Mrs. Chris Manos received her 15 hour badge for volunteer service from Oak Forest hospital last week. Mrs. Manos and Mrs. Anderson give five hours a week to the patients at Oak Forest. Mrs. Manos works with the Country store and takes a cart filled with candy, cookies, food and other items the patient uses thru one of the wards. Most of the patients are bed ridden and some of them have even been forgotten by their families so of course they look forward to seeing the volunteers.

Mrs. Anderson works with the library branch and carries books and magazines to the same ward, pausing here and there to write a letter, or to open and read letters and cards to those who are unable to do so for themselves. If you have extra time and would like to be a volunteer at the hospital, there are many people who could be helped by a friendly visitor, or you may help with one of the many other jobs available to volunteers.

Don't forget the supper fashion show benefit for the Palos Heights Christian school to be held at Nielsen's Restaurant in Chicago on Wednesday, Feb. 26. Mrs. T. Verhagen has extra tickets.
